

Bourbons

Bourbon was created in the early 19th century after European settlers, particularly those from Scotland, began to settle the land that is present day Kentucky. These people brought with them traditional Scotch whiskey and refined the process to create bourbon. It is a type of whiskey distilled in the United States from a fermented mixture of hot water and grain mash containing at least 51 percent corn. Bourbon is typically amber or brown in color and cannot be over 160 proof. The production is a strictly controlled process with intense regulations. We have carefully selected 48 bourbons that showcase the diversity of this style of whiskey.

Woodford Reserve Barn Whiskies

We traveled to Kentucky to blend our own unique barrel of Woodford Reserve. We chose two unique barrels to blend into our own Barn No. 2 blend. We also carefully selected our own Barrel of Double Wood to offer our Guests two distinctive world class bourbons exclusive to the bourbon lounge and not available anywhere else. Cheers!

Woodford Reserve Barn No. 2..... 10.50

The nose has soft, orange notes sweetened with hints of honey and vanilla dusted with pureed cracker crumbs. Soft, orange and apple tart on the tongue.

Woodford Reserve Double Oak Selection..... 11

Rich, elegant butterscotch with caramel-coated apple to the nose. Hints of almond, hazelnut and sherry-crated on the tongue with rich butterscotch flavor.

Bourbons

Ancient Age 9.25

Frankfort, KY. 80 proof, aged 3 years, 51% corn, rye and barley mash-bill. Medium in body and golden amber in color. The nose has notes of corn, caramel, toffee and vanilla. The palate includes toffee and light notes of citrus with a hint of spice at the finish.

Angel's Envy Bourbon 10.50

Crestwood, KY. 86.6 proof, aged 4-6 years in port casks, mash is unspecified. Light in body and deep gold in color. The nose is subtle with chocolate milk, roses and stewed fruit. The slightest spice on the tongue, finishes quickly with a lingering cinnamon ping.

Baker's Bourbon 9.50

Deerfield, IL. 107 proof, aged 7 years, the recipe is derived from Jim Beam, although the precise mash bill is a closely held company secret—it reportedly contains about 15% rye. Medium-full in body and mahogany in color. The nose is vaporous, with caramel apples, strawberries, and corn chips; a little water brings out pear and sandalwood. Lots of sweet flavors and almost no spice on the palate. There's plenty of bite at the end, with a sweet spiciness.

Basil Hayden Bourbon 9.50

Deerfield, IL. 80 proof, aged 8 years, mash is not disclosed but is considered a high rye whiskey. Basil Hayden is Old Grand-Dad but aged longer. Light in body and tawny/auburn in color. The nose is full of dark fruit—plums and cherries, mostly—as well as cinnamon, candy corn and a touch of vanilla. The palate is very spice forward, much less sweet than it smells, with a medium-length, white pepper finish.

Bourbons

Big House 8.25

Lawrenceburg, KY. 90 proof, aged 6 years, 60% corn, 35% rye and 5% malted barley. Complex in body, medium burn and golden caramel in color. Aromas of rye bread, vanilla, baking spices and caramel are present. On the first sip oak, maple, and dark fruit are found with a pleasant lingering finish.

Blanton's Original Single Barrel Bourbon 10.50

Frankfort, KY. 93 proof, no age statement, uses Buffalo Trace's rye-heavy Mash Bill #2 which is also used in Ancient Age, Elmer T. Lee, Hancock's Reserve, and Rock Hill Farms (all of which are owned by Age International, a subsidiary of Takara Shuzo Co, Ltd. In Japan). Full and rich in body and mahogany in color. Figs, apple, cereal, toffee, and stewed fruit can be found on the nose. The palate is buttery and oaky with a winey tartness followed by almonds and spice notes.

Booker's Bourbon 10.50

Deerfield, IL. 121-130 proof, aged 6-8 years, this recipe is also based on the standard Jim Beam mash bills; although secret, it's widely reported that the standard is 70% corn, 15% rye, and 15% barley. Full and chewy in body and auburn/mahogany in color. The nose has cola, floral, cumin, butter and leather notes. Lots of spice, chili peppers, oak and sweet tea are found on the palate. Medium, dry finish with a little spice at the very end.

Buck 9.25

San Jose, CA. 90 proof, aged 8 years, corn, wheat and malted barley. Medium in body and dark caramel in color. Caramel and vanilla first arrive with dark fruit, followed by a spiced crème brulee finish. Flavor includes cherries, waffle cone, orange and molasses.

Bourbons

Buffalo Trace Bourbon..... 8.25

Frankfort, KY. 90 proof, no age statement, mash bill is not disclosed. Medium and smooth in body and russet in color. Corn meal, rye spice, wheat, oak, and raspberries can be found on the nose. The palate picks up butter, corn, campfire, with a slightly minty finish.

Bulleit Bourbon.....9

Lawrenceburg, KY. 90 proof, aged 6-8 years, high-rye mash bill. Medium in body and auburn in color. Notes of cola, hibiscus, marigold, caramel, and oak can be found. Water brings out sandalwood and peanuts. On the palate, grapes and red wine notes are present, finishing with a slight sweetness.

Calumet Bourbon..... 9.75

Lexington, KY. 86 proof, no age statement, corn, rye, malted barley mash bill. Light in body and auburn in color. Floral and white pepper notes can be found on the nose. Complex caramel, light brown sugar and wood are profiles found on the palate.

Cleveland..... 9.25

Cleveland, OH. 100 proof, aged 6 months, undisclosed mash bill. Full and chewy in body and tawny brown in color. Cedar and citrus are present in the aroma. The palate includes notes of oak, honey and pepper.

Clyde May's..... 9.25

Conecuh Ridge, AL. 86 proof, aged 4 years, corn, rye, malted barley mash bill. Light and mellow in body and russet in color. On the nose there are aromas of applesauce, caramel, butterscotch, and coconut notes in various degrees. On the palate, the grain is present but far from overpowering, with the butterscotch particularly strong.

Bourbons

Eagle Rare-Single Barrel Bourbon..... 8.75

Frankfort, KY. 90 proof, aged 10 years, low-rye mash bill. Full and chewy in body and mahogany in color. There are notes of rose hips, honey, caramel, green apples, almonds and dried fruit on the nose. Bubblegum, cherries, and oranges on the palate, ending with a nice, lingering spice.

Elijah Craig Bourbon..... 9

Bardstown, KY. 94 proof, aged 12 years, low-rye mash bill. Full and chewy in body and auburn in color. Toasted almonds, tangerines, sour apples, barley and a little yeast can be found on the nose. The palate lends flavors of cherry cola, spearmint, and cardamom. The finish is dry with a hint of curry.

Evan Williams "Black Label" 7.50

Bardstown, KY. 86 proof, aged four years, 70% corn, remaining rye and malted barley. Medium in body and amber in color. A light nose with notes of vanilla and mint. The palate includes oak, brown sugar and caramel.

Evan Williams "White Label" 8.50

Bardstown, KY. 100 proof, aged six years, 70% corn, remaining rye and malted barley. Medium in body and bright gold in color. The nose has notes of caramel, vanilla, oak and barley. On the palate there is citrus on top of vanilla and black pepper with a warm, dry finish.

Evan Williams 1783 7.50

Bardstown, KY. 86 proof, aged four years, 70% corn, remaining rye and malted barley. Light to medium in body and honey in color. The nose is oaky vanilla with sautéed butter and buttered corn. The palate is semi-sweet with oak and honey.

Bourbons

— Tennessee Whiskies —

Tennessee whiskey is straight bourbon whiskey produced in Tennessee. However, most current producers of Tennessee whiskey disclaim references to their products as “Bourbon” and do not label them as such on any of their bottles or advertising materials. With one exception, all current producers are required by Tennessee law to produce their whiskey in Tennessee and to also use a filtering step known as the Lincoln County Process prior to aging the whiskey - which some assert makes the product distinct from the more generic product category called Bourbon.
